

Collaborative Initiatives in Colorado Master List 2016

The Collaborative Conservation Atlas will be launching a survey of initiatives this fall. To ensure your initiative is included in the study, please check the list below and provide current contact information for an individual familiar with the history and development of the initiative. If the initiative is missing, please email Ch'aska at chaska@gmail.com.

Criteria for participating in the survey:

Does the group:

- Involve citizens, landowners, and/or local community groups?
- Include at least two additional kinds of stakeholders representing some combination of organizations, government agencies, businesses, special districts, or interest groups?
- Involve a sustained process of interaction or consensus building lasting at least two years at some point(s) during its history?
- Address issues related to environmental policy or management?
- Pool resources and assets to solve shared problems?
